

Mamata powers fuel price protest

Mamata rides pillion on the electric scooter in Calcutta on Thursday

Calcutta: Mamata Banerjee on Thursday held a unique form of protest against the relentless rise in fuel rates in India by riding from her home to the state secretariat and back on an e-scooter and demanded a rollback in the price of LPG cylinders in the price of LPG cylinders to the level of the UPA II regime.

The Bengal chief minister threatened a much wider agitation from Friday, before urging other non-BJP forces across the country to do their bit on the fuel price rise.

"The price of everything, other than that of people's lives, has at least doubled in this regime, across the country.... Every day, a leader will come (to Bengal), but you will not hear one word out of them on the price rise.... Only lies, as they please.... this price rise will not go on, it will not be tolerated," she said at her residence in the evening, after her journey back from Nabanna.

"The LPG cylinder price must be brought back to Rs 400, where it was before they came to power. Or else, going forward, we will launch a much wider agitation.... Gas ka price upaskaro, nahi toh Narendra Modiji vapas jao (Roll back the price of LPG for domestic consumption, or else go back, Narendra Modi)," Mamata added.

Visibly pleased over her maiden e-scooter run, the chief minister said: "Now it becomes very easy for me. I will go anywhere, alone.... I made so much progress in just a day."

The Trinamul Congress chief warned the Prime Minister, asserting that he wouldn't be able to handle the situation if the common man began to follow what India's farmers had started.

"When the Modi government hadn't come to power, a domestic LPG cylinder used to cost Rs 400. Today, it is Rs 825. A normal household needs a couple of cylinders a month. If two cylinders come for over Rs 1,600, what will the common man eat, buy, spend on children and their education, travel?" she asked.

The chief minister alleged a "big, mysterious game" behind the scenes, causing fuel prices in India to be disproportionately high even when crude oil prices had been low, internationally.

She then urged the non-BJP forces across the nation to unite on the issue. "Whichever section of society tries to protest against these anti-people policies, agencies are unleashed to hound them and they are branded as terrorists."

"All other (non-BJP) forces in other states too, (Shiv Sena chief) Uddhav Thackeray in Maharashtra, DMK's Stalin in Tamil Nadu, the CPM government in Kerala, the Congress government in Rajasthan, the Delhi government... everywhere. I urge people to come forward and protest," she added.

Nadda ire at TMC 'daughter' slogan

SUBHASISH CHAUDHURI AND ARKAMROY DATTA MAJUMDAR

Barrackpore/Calcutta: BJP national president J.P. Nadda ridiculed Trinamul's new slogan of Mamata Banerjee as the "daughter (gharer meye)" on Thursday in Barrackpore.

At the Anandapuri grounds, Nadda questioned Trinamul for promoting Mamata as "daughter" when she apparently "failed" to ensure the security of women in the state. "We have no objection to your being portrayed as didi or daughter... But are you at all concerned about the security of girls in Bengal? Why did you fail to ensure their security? Why are cases of rapes and domestic violence and trafficking of women so high in Bengal?" he said.

He also attacked Mamata's appeal to Prime Minister Narendra Modi to provide free Covid-19 vaccination to people. "Much before her appeal, Prime Minister Narendra Modi arranged vaccination for all. From March 1, people aged over 60 will get the vaccine, followed by people over 45 with comorbidities," Nadda said, adding that the people of Bengal were part of it.

Trinamul leaders tore into Nadda's attacks, asking BJP "to look at UP first before looking at the security of women in Bengal" and pointing out that Mamata's appeal to Modi for urgency in vaccination was because Bengal was heading for polls amid a pandemic.

However, the "decent" 30,000-plus footfall at Anandapuri grounds, Barrackpore, was a relief for the state party leadership that had been hauled up after Nadda had to abort a recent meeting in Jhargram owing to low turnout on February 9. In Jhargram to flag off one of the BJP's Parivartan Yatras and address a cultural event, Nadda left the local party office as only a handful had turned up for the cultural event, and later pulled up the state leadership over it, sources said.

Nadda also visited the ancestral homes of literary icons Bankim Chandra Chatterjee and Bibhutibhusan Bandyopadhyay, and lunched at a jute mill worker's home in line with his party's Bengal-connect strategy.

Modi govt misjudged farmer power: Sainath

SNEHAMOY CHAKRABORTY

Sainath in Santiniketan on Thursday

Santiniketan: Journalist P. Sainath on Thursday accused the Narendra Modi government of using "a good crisis" like the Covid-19 to thrust farm laws and labour codes on farmers and workers, expecting that the pandemic-hit peasantry and working class would give in to them during the tough times.

However, the government had underestimated the farmers, as is evident by their ongoing mass movement, added Sainath, in Santiniketan to address a convention by Left student outfits against fascism.

He said: "What were they (Rightwing intellectuals and economists) saying? They were saying that peasants and workers are on their knees because of the pandemic. They (farmers or workers) wouldn't dare to come out of their home

(to resist) as they are pulverised by the pandemic.... They will not be able to resist and this is the time to pass these laws."

The 2007 Ramon Magsaysay Award winner, speaking to a 500-strong audience, asked people to understand why the Modi government chose this period of the pandemic to introduce the farm laws and tweak labour codes when they were in power since 2014.

He alleged that the only persons who knew about the farm laws when they were being drafted were corporate bosses.

"They knew what was coming because they started building silo storages, knowing that the essential commodities act is about to be gutted. They already built hundreds of silos in Himachal Pradesh, for example, before the laws were even passed in Parliament," said Sainath.

Sainath said the Modi government found itself in a fix because it had miscalculated the power of resistance of farmers.

Economist Prabhat Patnaik warned the gathering against the dangers of fascism emerging in a new form in the country.

SFI leader Aishe Ghosh criticised Visva-Bharati vice-chancellor Bidyut Chakrabarty for allegedly suspending and gagging voices of those who dared to criticise the policies of the varsity administration.
